NEW TOURIST ASSOCIATION

Delegates from towns along the Crow gathered at Fernie on Saturday evening to discuss a publicity campaign for the tourist season 1932. It was decided to form a new organization known as the Southern Scenic Red Trail Association.

Officers of the new organization are Waldo Greenway, Lethbridge, president; James Rose, Lethbridge, secretary; H. M. Whimster, Nelson, vice-president; four members of the executive: E. K. Stewart, Fernie; J. P. Fink, Cranbrook; W. Forteau Trail; and L. M. Logan, Blairstown.

It was decided the first and immediately essential move was to get before the motoring public a new road map of the west, from the Great Lakes to California, showing the completed summer route between prairie and coast, and advertising its scenic values. Material and cuts will be secured at once from the various boards, and the new map will be put in shape at Lethbridge for printing, and will be printed the moment the funds are guaranteed.

The Lethbridge board was allotted the task of completing the organization in the eastern section of the territory interested. Fernie took to line up the central section, which is East Kootenay, and Nelson was requested to complete the organization in the western end of the territory.

These various duties are to be carried out immediately, and it is desired to have the organization completed and functioning within 10 days.

A terrific snowstorm that prevailed on the Alberta side of the Crows' Nest Pass held up three delegations coming by motor from Lethbridge, Blairstown and Coleman, who were unable to get past Coleman, and thus the actual conference was confined to one delegate from the Alberta side.

Mr. Long of the Lethbridge Herald, who had come through by train, and the Fernie and Nelson delegates, the Nelson men, H. M. Whimster and Adolph Browne, also having authority from Trail. Fernie's spokesmen were E. K. Stewart and Messrs. Bees, Boose, Shorthouse and Mangani. While the intended Cranbrook delegation was prevented at the last minute from going, the Nelson delegates were met at the train and asked to

Friday evening proved a very enjoyable time when the C.G.I.T. groups put on a "Fun Night" in the Blairstown United church in aid of the Young People's finance campaign. The church was packed to the doors and the programme was certainly a credit to the girls.

Opening the programme, the Upton quartette (J. E. Upton, Roy Upton, Sandy Ferguson, and George Kerr) gave two enjoyable numbers. Next was a dance, "The Irish Washerwoman" by Gertrude Scott; a play entitled "The Schoolroom" by the Vic group of girls was exceedingly humorous. This was followed by a tableau which brought forth roars of laughter. One was "Taking Nellie Home," Marion MacDonald took the part of "Joe" while "Nellie" was presented by Doreen Chappell; another entitled "Walking My Baby Back Home" was played by Lucy Harmer and Audrey Vaughn, representing a modern couple on their homeward journey.

Betty Morgan and Jean Upton entertained with a piano duet followed by a vocal solo by Betty Morgan. A very unique number was the Indian club drill by Ida Emery, Gertrude Scott and Marjory McPhail. A vocal solo by Miss Lena Fraser was much enjoyed. The second half of the programme was the opening broadcast of the Philmont Radio Corporation, the wise-cracking announcer being Gladys Morgan. During the Crystal Dahl quarter-hour a "Bedtime" story with piano accompaniment was told by Aunt Minnie (Caroline Moore), the millie being Kathleen Scott. The Safeway half-hour was in the form of a "Nigger-skirt" entitled "Sox and Seepuds," which brought down the house. Ellis Maddison and Grace Wheatscroft taking the parts of the two southern washerwomen. The audience then heard from Bartlett third, the noisy reporter (Dorothy Hamilton), Prof. Putup (Marion MacDonald), physical training expert (?) gave some "advice" in health. Lizzy Letts, child poetess (Flora Mackinnon) read some of her latest poems. Prof. Nutt (Bunny Lynn), a "Numerologist" told February born people about themselves. Thelma Howe on behalf of the Philmont group of girls presented Mrs. W. Oliver with a bouquet of carnations for her efforts as their leader. The last and perhaps the most anticipated item was the "Sink-fun" orchestra under the leadership of Dorothy Hamilton; this orchestra consisted of saxophones, violins, violas, trombones, etc., made from kitchen utensils, and created a great laugh. Accompanists for the evening were Misses Madeline Chardon, Irene Chappell, Doreen Chappell and Doris Hales—Exs.

The Imperial Economic Conference

The outstanding event listed on the Canadian national calendar for 1932 is the Imperial Economic Conference which will open at Ottawa on July 18. The deliberations of this conference, the decisions it may reach or fail to reach, yes, even the spirit manifested within the conference, will have far-reaching effects not only upon Canada and the British nations of the world, but upon all nations.

Because this is the case, the people of Canada will follow the proceedings of the conference with an interest surpassing in its intensity that usually displayed by them in the sessions of their own parliament. It is, in a sense, a parliament of the Empire that will be in session, and while its conclusions will have to be confirmed and ratified later by each individual parliament in Great Britain and the Dominions, it is safe to say that once the conference itself has reached unanimity, its decisions will be accepted by all.

On the other hand, should the conference fail in its avowed object, should it prove as abortive of results as the London conference of 1930, the outcome may possibly be very disastrous; in fact, in such an event, it would have been better if there had been no conference. British people everywhere entertained high hopes of the conference of 1930 in advance of its sittings, and their disappointment over its almost complete failure was correspondingly great, their only consolation being the decision reached to meet again and make another try for success.

All political parties in Canada are sincerely desirous that the Ottawa conference should succeed where the London conference failed. We believe the same can be said of all political parties in Great Britain and the other Dominions. If this united will to succeed is persisted in, if it becomes intensified as the opening date of the conference approaches, that the determination of the masses of the people that the conference shall succeed is manifested everywhere, then success will be achieved.

That such a feeling and desire now animates the people of Western Canada is indicated by the proposal made in the Saskatchewan Legislature that all parts in that Assembly should unite in framing and unanimously adopting a resolution setting forth the views of their people as to the policies which Canada should pursue to the conference, thus far as it is concerned, eliminating all party contentions. The suggestion goes even further, namely that all the other Western Provincial Legislatures should follow the same course. In a word, the suggestion is that so far as the Western Provinces of Canada are concerned they should, in advance of the conference, reach common ground in regard to matters of policy in the sphere of Empire trade, as the interests of the West may be affected thereby, and acquaint the Ottawa Government of its conclusions.

Great Britain to be represented in the conference by a new National Government representative of Conservatives, Liberals, and a section of Labor; Australia will be represented by a new Government representative of a combination of political groups. It is well, therefore, that the national viewpoint of Canada, as represented by political groups, should be ascertained and presented to the Canadian Government.

Admittedly the difficulties to be overcome, the problems to be solved, are many and great. The national interests of each component part of the Empire have to be recognized, while the combined interests of all are being worked out. There must, therefore, be a willingness to give and take, to compromise, to reach co-operation grounds of understanding, rather than to adopt inflexible attitudes. Fortunately for the ultimate success of the conference this fact appears to be more generally recognized and accepted than heretofore.

It is fortunate, too, that in manufacturing circles in Eastern Canada there is everywhere in evidence a willingness to go some way at least in the direction of more encouragement for the sale of British-made goods in Canada in return for preferences in the Old Country markets for these products which constitute the great bulk of Canada's export trade. Taken all in all the omens appear to be favorable to a successful outcome of the conference's deliberations.

It is also well that the move for unanimity in the matter of Canadian policy in the conference should originate in the Western Province. No part of Canada stands to gain more, or to lose more, than does the West. For example, it is universally recognized that the success of the Hudson Bay route depends upon the development of a large import trade from Britain through the port of Churchill. An absence of such import trade means that the export of grain and other Western products will be strictly limited because a one-way rail and steamship traffic can never succeed. It is economically impossible, too expensive, because without two-way traffic vessels put on the route, rates on both railway and such ships as do operate will, of necessity, be too high to insure success.

This is but one aspect of the subject, small, perhaps, in relation to the whole subject of Empire trade, a very vital nevertheless to Western Canada. It is because of just such aspects, however, that a unity of Canadian opinion is essential before the conference begins its work. It is to be hoped that such unity will be established and find expression around the conference table.

How Railway Fights Weeds

English Company Finds Spraying Poison From Tractor Effective

Weeds are the railwayman's enemy as well as the gardener's. If left alone they would choke the permanent way as effectively as in like circumstances, they would do one downed bed, and travel paths. The British Southern Railway has made an effective weed-killing train by coupling two old tenders together and fitting them with spray pipes and tanks. A special form of liquid weed-killer is used, and the spray pipes have an effective range of about ten feet.

Facts About the Moon

One Side Very Hot and the Other Intensely Cold

Professor Stewart, of Princeton University, predicts that within the next hundred years our great-grandchildren will travel to the moon in a rocket-propelled ship which will cost $400,000,000 to build. There are one or two little things found necessary to humans which are not found on the moon. For instance, there is no air, no water, no food." Also the climate of the moon is somewhat unsuitable.

On the side turned towards the sun the temperature rises to 244 degrees Fahrenheit, which is a good deal hotter than boiling water. On the other side it falls to 244 degrees below zero—276 degrees of frost. Actually no human being could live for an instant in such heat or such cold.

Keep Trade In Canada

Carrying of Canadian wheat by Canadian traffic facilities and through Canadian ports rather than through United States channels, would solve to a large extent the transportation problems of the Dominion, and would provide millions of dollars for Canadian labor, said Col. E. C. Phinney, president of the Halifax harbor commission, addressing the Toronto Transportation Club.

Saskatchewan Leads in Mental Hygiene

National Committee Expresses Hope That All Large Hospitals Will Follow Lead Given By Hon. Dr. Munroes.

The report of the activities of the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene for the period 1930-31, just issued, makes special complimentary reference to the work being done by Saskatchewan's Minister of Public Health, the Hon. F. D. Munroes, in connection with the establishment of a division of Mental Health in Saskatchewan.

"The progressive Minister of Health," says the report, "is taking a statesmanlike interest in mental hygiene and has created a division of mental health. It will fall to this division to conduct the work in mental hospitals and clinics and the application of mental hygiene principles in education, social work, administration of criminal justice, etc. The Minister of Health has also made possible the organization of psychiatric wards in connection with the Regina General Hospital. It is to be hoped that all large general hospitals throughout the country will follow the lead furnished by Regina."

During the period 1930-31 the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene has been active in all parts of Canada in the promotion of mental hygiene progress, including standing pieces of work, including the Canadian Provinces of Prince Edward Island; organization of a post-graduate centre in psychiatry in Toronto; integration of mental hygiene into the school system of Montreal; activities leading to the enlargement of the mental hospital at Brandon, Manitoba; arrangement in collaboration with the Federal Census Bureau to secure uniform statistics from mental institutions of the country; publication of weekly articles in two hundred newspapers; demonstration of the value of social work in the parole of mental patients in British Columbia; establishment of a Division of Mental Health in connection with the Department of Social Health; the Education of Saskatchewan; organization of psychiatric wards in connection with the Regina General Hospital; educational publicity; continuation of important research activities at four leading Canadian universities and the knitting of mental hygiene activities through co-operative efforts between the National Committees of Canada and the United States.

SAVED IMPORTED DRESS

"After a little washing, a lovely green veil—an imported dress—lost colour so completely that it was not wearable. A friend who had admired it asked me why I wasn't wearing it. I told him that I had a reason and advised dying it and recommended Diamond Dyes. To make a long story short, I washed the dress which really cost just 15¢ the price of one package of Diamond Dyes. It turned out a lovely green dress that really cost just 15¢ the price of one package of Diamond Dyes. R.F. Quebec.

Mrs. Scheer Says She Sleeps Like Log Since Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I can truthfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the insomnia I suffer from a roundabout condition that I could not sleep at night. Many nights I could not lie down at all, and would get up at 2 a.m. and walk about. My mother was in the same condition and had found relief by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I have taken four bottles of them and can sleep like a log, and I feel refreshed in the morning. I do my own housework and am a dynamizer besides."

New Freight Ruling

Family Car May Now Be Shipped With Household Effects

Like the kitchen table, the chesterfield suite and little Jimmy's playthings, the family can in future will be considered by Canadian National Railways' freight officials as just another "household effect" for rating purposes, as a result of a new ruling that has been issued.

Under the new schedule, when household goods are moved in car loads from points in western Canada to the east, or between points in eastern or western Canada, the family automobile, whether it be a tin lizzie or an expensive limousine, may be included in the shipment to move at the same rate as that charged for household goods. This new rate is considerably lower than that previously charged for this type of traffic.

The same ruling will shortly be made to apply to the shipment of the family automobile with household effects from eastern centres to the west.

Fifty Million Gas Masks

France Will Ensure Every Citizen Against Gas Attacks

Fifty million gas masks have been ordered by the French Government for civilian use, it was learned officially.

The masks, to be manufactured during the next two years, will be distributed among the population of France since the World War. They will insure immunity for ten hours after which the chemical canisters can be changed.

The masks were ordered by the Ministry of the Interior for the protection of the civil population in case of a gas attack. It is intended by the French Government to have enough gas masks on hand to guarantee every citizen protection.

To Protect Forests

New Machine For Constructing Fire Lines Is Invented

A new machine has been invented to aid in fighting forest fires. It is nothing more than a powerful tractor with a wide plough fixed in front. The plough is used for constructing fire lines to prevent the spread of forest fires. The machine can cover fifteen inches wide and will throw out the earth sixteen inches on either side, making a fire line almost four feet wide. It will accomplish in one hour, work that would keep ten men busy for a whole day.

It is in high favour throughout Canada and its excellence has carried its name beyond the seas. If we double the price it would be a cheap liniment.

Cost Of Stamp Commission

The cost of the Stamp Commission which investigated trading in grain futures is the subject of questions placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by A. L. Beauvais (Lib. Provencier). Mr. Beauvais asks the total cost of the commission, amounts paid for the three commissioners for both fees and expenses, and amounts expended in fees for lawyers engaged by the Government.

Government and Municipal Co-operation

Necessity Of Economy In Order To Safeguard Solvency Of Municipalities

Hon. Howard McConnell, Provincial Minister of Municipal Affairs for Saskatchewan, has addressed a letter over his personal signature to the various municipalities pointing out the necessity of close co-operation between Saskatchewan Government and the municipalities. He points out the paramount importance of safe guarding the solvency of the municipalities, by pursuing a course of the most rigid economy. He pays a tribute to the public spirit of certain municipalities, pointing out that there have been instances where tax collections in districts where crops have been good have exceeded tax collections in districts where crops have been reasonably good. In some districts which have been dried out the financial statements submitted have given the greatest encouragement. Regret is expressed that in some municipalities more favored in the way of better crops financial conditions are not what they should be.

The Minister expresses the desirability of the employment of capable secretaries and paying them reasonable returns for the important services rendered. He urges the utmost economy in preparing the budget for the coming year, and suggests that only the most necessary expenditures be undertaken. He asks for a copy of the forthcoming budget with an indication of the proposed savings, and offers the earliest co-operation of the Government, the Minister, and the Department.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., etc., are caused nine times out of ten by a bad acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Building hydrochloric acid develops the stomach, toning and invigorating the stomach lining. It stimulates the stomach, removes tritoma and tritoma ulcers. Don't use an acid stomach with peptic or difficult stomachs. Remove the acid stomach from pain by driving the acid from the stomach into the intestines.

Balsam of the Orient is a good acid stomach after meals with a little Balsam Magnesia and not only will it remove the acid from the stomach naturally. There is nothing better for acid stomach. Japan Courting Disaster

By Breeding Pledge To Respect Chinese Independence

What is now clear is the fact that Japan's diplomatic and military objectives are one and the same. The empire is acting as a unit, in spite of the protestations of its diplomatic representatives. Japan entered upon an adventure last September whose sequels no one can foresee, but with each act of aggression the resistance to Japan increases and consolidates. The Empire may have a secret ally, perhaps two, but it courts disaster, nevertheless, by antagonising nations to which it has given its pledge to respect the territory and independence of China.

Film Activities Of The Prince

Furnishes Good Idea Of How His Royal Highness Has To Work

A film introducing the personal interests and activities of the Prince of Wales has been made by A. Stanley Williamson, and was privately shown recently at the Phoenix Theatre. Naturally, the story is that of the prince, but the film includes many "topics" which have not been often shown, and gives a good idea of how hard His Royal Highness has to work. There are also pictures of the prince's farms in Cornwall, where he is known as the duke. The film will be publicly shown in the West End.

Outlet Not Justified

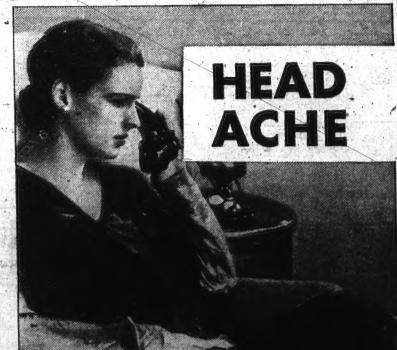

It will take many times the present traffic to justify another rail outlet, the railway committee report into the Peace River outlet reveals. The report was tabled. RUSSIAN TROOPS MOVING TOWARD MANCHURIA

Mukden, Manchuria.—Several thousand Russian soldiers are moving down toward the Manchurian frontier, presumably because of Moscow's apprehension over Japanese troop movements in northeastern Manchuria, the Rengo (Japanese) news agency reported from Harbin.

Meanwhile, the Japanese expedition, headed by General Jiro Tamon and aimed at Chinese rebels in the vicinity of Imieng, was held up. Difficulties developed in getting permission to transport troops over the Chinese Eastern railway, jointly owned by Russia and China.

Officials of the railway said they would not furnish trains requested by the Japanese because they had not received instructions to do so from Moscow.

Tokyo, Japan.—The cabinet approved an extraordinary appropriation of 22,000,000 yen (currently $7,040,000) to meet additional military expenses in connection with the Japanese expedition to Shanghai.

Japanese military authorities are working at top speed—and under the protection of censorship—to carry out the cabinet decision to double the army forces at Shanghai. Meanwhile residents of Tokyo had some direct contact with warlike preparations. Troop trains passed close to the city and there were other military measures which gave the public a chance to put on demonstrations for the departing soldiers.

Question Of Deportation

Matter Is Raised In British House Of Commons

London, Eng.—The question of deportation of British immigrants from Canada was raised in the House of Commons when Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary for the Dominions, assured the House the government was in constant communication with the Canadian government on the matter. The ultimate authority was the Dominion government, he believed.

In 1930, Mr. Thomas told a questioner, Canada deported 296 persons who had gone out under state-asseted emigration. The ground they had come from was 1,402 because they had become a charge on the public. In 1931 the figures were, respectively, 267 and 1,331.

Guilty Of Excesses

Large Number Of Chinese Put To Death By The Japanese

London, Eng.—The foreign office published the second report of the committee of observers constituted at Shanghai by the League of Nations Council.

"Since February 4," it said, "a state of open war has existed here." It reported a number of Chinese apparently had been put to death by the Japanese but no tally of death of the victims had been found.

The Japanese consul, the commission reported, admitted that there had been excesses. Although some of the cases had been cleared up, the number of deaths still unaccounted for is large.

Has Labor Support

Reported Move Will Assure De Valera Comfortable Majority

Dublin, Irish Free State.—The Labor Party, which will hold the balance of power in the next Dail, Einstein, reported it would line itself up with M. de Valera's Fine Gael (Republican Party) to oust President William T. Cosgrave from office if he does not resign by March 9, the day on which the dail will convene.

Such a move would assure De Valera a comfortable majority on a motion to elect him president of the executive council (cabinet)—that is, president of the Irish Free State.

British Columbia Shingles Vancouver, B.C.—A train load of 32 cars of British Columbia shingles, part of an order for 34 cars, representing 7,000,000 shingles, or enough to roof over 400 average dwellings, is now rolling to eastern Ontario.

Censor Troop Movements Tokyo, Japan.—Censorship was invoked again to check the movement of Japanese reinforcements to the Shanghai front. Only meager accounts of military preparations appeared in a few newspapers.

Corn From Africa

Shipment Received In Calgary To Be Used For Poultry Feed

Calgary, Alberta.—Believed a pre-arranged, a shipment of corn from Africa arrived in Calgary for delivery to local feed dealers recently. The shipment came from Vancouver and will be used for poultry feed.

The dealers receiving the corn explained that it was cheaper to purchase African corn at a lower price than the North or South Dakota product which had previously been used by them. The African corn, they declared, was better suited for the purpose, being harder and smaller than the United States variety.

SIR MALCOLM SETS UP A NEW SPEED RECORD

Daytona Beach, Fla.—Sir Malcolm Campbell, British speed king, wrote another thrilling chapter to his years of racing history by hanging up a new world's automobile speed record of 253.96 miles an hour over a mile route.

The 45-year-old driver who has been blazing new speed marks down the "racing road" for a quarter of a century, drove his 12-cylinder "Bluebird" out into the ocean course to surpass by 8.235 miles an hour his former record of 245.733 established in the same car here last year.

On his first run, made southward over the beach, Sir Malcolm attained the speed of 267.459 miles an hour. Upon reaching the south end of the course, he immediately turned his bullet-nosed machine around and shot back northward over the beach at a speed of 241.773.

He covered the mile on his first run in 13.46 seconds and flashed across that distance on his second trial in 14.89 seconds for an average time of 14.17 seconds for both runs.

In establishing a new record over the mile, Sir Malcolm clipped .47 of a second off his old record.

Sir Malcolm also established new world speed records over one and five kilometre routes, but the announcement was not made public by officials until after they had checked their calculations.

Sir Malcolm's new record for the kilometre, which is approximately 2,000 feet less than a mile, was 251.346 miles an hour, compared with his former record for that distance of 246.086. His new record for five kilometres was 241.569 miles an hour as compared with his old record of 216.045.

Volcano In Action

Tokio, Japan.—The volcano Asama near Kauizawa, northwest of Tokio, went into violent eruption for the third time in a month, scattering ash and stones over a wide area, setting fire to nearby forests and damaging a few houses in the nearby villages.

BRITAIN'S EMERGENCY CABINET SITS ALL NIGHT ON WAR SITUATION

News from London, England, states that Britain's Emergency Cabinet Committee sat all night keeping in constant touch with the latest developments in Shanghai. The committee will maintain contact with the situation in China and will be prepared to meet on one hour's notice. This is the first time since the World War that such a Committee has been formed. Above are five of the seven Emergency Cabinet members: Left, top and bottom, Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary; Lord Halifax, Secretary of War. Centre: Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council. Right, top and bottom: Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer; and Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary of State for India.

SETS NEW RECORD

Russian Wheat Shortage

Soviet To Use Thirty-Two Million Bushels For Seed

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has received a cable from London giving the official text of the Molotov-Stalin decree regarding Soviet grain. It announces that 1,926,000,000 pounds of grain (32,100,000 bushels) will be sent to collective and state farms in the drouth areas for seed and food, the principal areas affected being the lower and middle Volga, Kazakhstan and western Siberia regions.

It is also a sad commentary on our system," he said, "when we realize that with an imaginary line running between Canada and the United States, where the same character of people live and where the same economic conditions prevail, there is this great difference in banking conditions."

This report gives further evidence of the suspected crop failure over large Russian areas last season and explains in large measure why south Russian wheat shipments have failed to such low levels in the past few months.

Victims Of War

Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson Makes Appeal On Behalf Of Children Of The World

Geneva, Switzerland.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, president of the world disarmament conference, addressed an eloquent appeal to the assembled delegates in behalf of the children of the world, who, he said, are always the victims of war.

President Henderson's address marked the close of general discussions at the conference. It held a note of hopefulness.

Many millions of children were sacrificed behind the lines in the Great War, he said, to tuberculosis, rickets and other diseases which ruthlessly destroyed a rising generation.

Found Flight Difficult

Visitors Take Six Weeks For Trans-Canada Trip

Victoria, B.C.—Battling ice and fog for practically the entire six weeks consumed for the trip, and dogged by ill luck in the form of three minor crashes, W. H. Cross, Victoria, owner of the Hari Grindstrom, Montreal, pilot, landed here to complete their Trans-Canada flight from Montréal to Victoria.

"We did not have one clear day all the way across Canada," said Cross, describing the difficulties of long winter flying.

Quebec Favors Sweepstakes

Hamilton, Ont.—Representatives of 48 municipalities from all over Ontario condemned sweepstakes as a means of raising money to meet relief expenditure in the province. Protection that Dominion-wide sweepstakes would soon be a reality was made by Mayor Houde. If Ontario was not prepared to co-operate, Quebec would lead the way, he said, determining, "I'm going to start it in Montréal."

At the same time the delegates to the convention pledged themselves to raise a sum of $10,000 for the treasury of the association within the next four months and failing that to consider ways and means of disbanding it.

With a view to facilitating the enrollment of members the present membership fee of $5 per year was reduced to $2 for a family, this to include children under 16 years of age. Individual adult membership fees were placed at $2 and fees for persons between the ages of 16 and 21 at $1.

Re-election of Mr. Macauley puts the stamp of approval on his work during the past year in organizing the Saskatchewan farmers on a political basis and in attempting to form a working alliance with farm bodies in other provinces as well as with the Labor Party. It was Mr. Macauley too who broached the suggestion for amalgamation of the three prairie provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta under one government.

The financial difficulties of the farm organization are due in part to the practice of collecting their fees through the wheat pool. Members authorized the wheat pool to deduct the amount of the fee from the second payment on the crop and turn it over to the United Farmers of Canada. Since 1929 no second crop payments have been made by the pool and some $63,056 in dues is tied up in wheat pool regulations. A resolution was passed calling for the termination of the arrangement at the earliest possible moment.

Many delegates expressed dissatisfaction with the working of the present Saskatchewan Debt Adjustment Act. The convention decided to ask the provincial legislature to amend the act to provide enlargement of the debt adjustment commission to three members with the chairman a trustee in bankruptcy. Another amendment was requested to prevent the launching of any legal proceedings for the recovery of debts without the permission of the commission.

Comparison Favors Canada

Banking Systems Of Dominion Praised By American Official

Washington, D.C.—Comparison between the banking systems of Canada and the United States to the disadvantage of the latter appears in the report of the treasury appropriation bill.

Comptroller of Currency John W. Pole told a congressional committee there had been 2,290 bank failures in the United States during the calendar year 1931 and none in Canada since 1923.

It is also a sad commentary on our system," he said, "when we realize that with an imaginary line running between Canada and the United States, where the same character of people live and where the same economic conditions prevail, there is this great difference in banking conditions."

"The people on both sides of the border have similar characteristics. They are separated only by an imaginary line, while, on one side, they have had no bank failures whatever, on our side there have been hundreds of bank failures."

May Terminate Trade Agreement With Russia

British Government Is Urged To Take Immediate Action

London, England.—The trade and industry committee of the Conservative party decided to urge upon the government immediate steps to terminate the Anglo-Soviet trade agreement.

The committee reached its decision, it said, in a desire to see Great Britain free to take appropriate steps to remedy present unsatisfactory industrial conditions and to give representatives of the United Kingdom greater freedom in their conversations with the Dominions at the Imperial Conference at Ottawa next July.

ONE PARTY TO BE REPRESENTED AT IMPERIAL PARLEY

Ottawa, Ont.—Premier Bennett and the leader of the opposition found themselves in agreement in the belief that Canada's representation at the Imperial Conference should be made up of supporters of the government and not all parties of parliament.

In discussing the currency stabilization motion, Premier Bennett digressed briefly to discuss this aspect. The prime ministers of some of the Dominions in the commonwealth had from time to time contended that it was rather unsound that only one party should be represented; and that the government of the day should be assisted by the leader of the opposition.

"But that view has not obtained and is not likely to obtain," added Premier Bennett. "Hear, hear," said Mr. King.

He was glad Mr. King agreed with him, Mr. Bennett continued. The principle of which opposition to this view had been based was that the government of the day must assume responsibility for what is done at the conference, the premier added.

"I am bound to say," Mr. Bennett proceeded, "that I used to think that at Imperial conferences it would be much better if all parties could be represented. But in discussions I have had since responsibility has fallen to my lot, it has appeared that there might be difficulties to which the right honorable gentleman has in times past referred. Whatever there may be of value in it from an academic viewpoint; as a practical matter it need not now be discussed, for the government will accept responsibility."

Improvement In Wheat Situation Is Predicted

Statistical Experts Believe Canada Will Again Sell To Europe

Ottawa, Ont.—Cables from Italy, Germany and Russia brought encouraging news from a Canadian standpoint in regard to the wheat situation. Italy is allowing its millers to use a larger percentage of foreign wheat beginning March 1. Germany is soon to be a buyer of wheat again. Meanwhile, from Russia comes word of shortages for seeding purposes in the Volga, Siberia and Kazakhstan areas.

The dispatch from Berlin predicting Germany will soon be buying wheat, is corroborated in letters which Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, has received. Statistical experts of the department also expressed the opinion that very soon Spain would lift the barriers against foreign wheat as her domestic wheat supply becomes exhausted. France has been relaxing her restrictions until now the millers can mix 20 per cent. of foreign wheat and this may be increased.

Statistical experts here take the view that very soon Italy, France, Spain and Germany will all be buying wheat. This is suggested, should help Canada materially. The Dominion has approximately 185,000 bushels of wheat for export.

Heavy Grain Shipments

Over Six Million Bushels For United Kingdom Pass Through Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C.—During the past weeks approximately 6,200,000 bushels of grain have been booked for shipment through this port for the United Kingdom and the continent, according to local grain brokers.

During the past week, the weekly report of the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange shows, shipments totalled 1,431,056 bushels, bringing the season's total to 43,430,886 bushels. At this time last year the export was 45,511,070 bushels.

Awarded Flying Trophy

Ottawa, Ont.—The Trans-Canada Trophy for 1931, given annually for meritorious service for the advancement of aviation in Canada, has been awarded to George H. R. Phillips, superintendent of eastern flying operations with the provincial air service in Ontario. The award was announced by Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence.

Germany Accepts Geneva, Switzerland.—Germany accepted the draft convention of the preliminary disarmament commission as the general framework for discussion of the world disarmament conference, thus postponing one of the most stubborn conflicts which confronted the delegates.

SPECIAL RAIL RATES FOR TEACHERS AND STUDENTS

Teachers and students attending schools and colleges in all parts of Canada will this Easter be accorded special holiday travelling privileges over Canadian National, Canadian Pacific, and other lines in Canada, according to an announcement by the Canadian Passenger Association. The new concession provides for round trip tickets between any points in Canada to be available to all students and teachers at the rate of one and a quarter times the regular single single way fare. Hitherto these tickets, which are good for the duration of the official school holidays, have been available only to non-resident teachers and pupils. Under the new ruling they will now be made available to resident teachers and pupils as well. This is in line with the special Easter concessions to the general public. To procure these special tickets students and teachers will be required to show an official certificate which may be obtained from the principal of all Canadian educational institutions.

CENSUS SHOWS INCREASE IN ANIMAL POPULATION

Protected from the hunter and living their lives as nature intended, the animal population of Jasper National Park, Alberta, has shown a remarkable increase during the past few years. A recent census shows that in this 4,200 square miles of game sanctuary, there are today no less than 3,000 elk, 20,000 mountain sheep, 10,000 Rocky Mountain goat, 5,000 assorted bears, 10,000 moose, 25,000 deer, and 9,000 caribou. One result of the increase in the animal population of the park has been the emigration of large numbers of game animals to districts which are contiguous to it, and here, excellent hunting of all kinds may be enjoyed in season.

ELEVATING VALUE OF POLITICAL CAREER FOR AMBITIOUS YOUNG MEN

With the reopening of the Dominion parliament comes the expected rift between the Rt. Hon. Wm. Lyon Mackenzie King and his equally honorable friend across the floor of the House, whose name is Bennett, concerning the appointment of their mutual friend, a man named Meighen, to the Upper House.

Naturally, such a chit-chat could not continue without some reference to the shady side of the Liberal administration, which, for want of a simplified spelling, is called Beauharnois, and at the same time the Hon. George N. Gordon, K.C. (Liberal), comes into the limelight due to recent speeches in which he referred to a honeymoon trip, at public expense, of Canada's envoy at Washington, who by some strange coincidence, married a Miss Bennett, who (strange coincidence), is a sister of the Premier himself.

All this political scandal and verbiage made enjoyable entertainment for the distinguished "First-Nighters" in the visitors' gallery, and took the Halliwells, who publishes the Colours of the people from away from the more sordid questions of depression, unemployment and relief. — Drumheller Mail.

LIFE COMPANIES SOUND AND STRONG

The impressive evidences of expansion and progress, of administrative prudence and of sustained public confidence revealed in the statement submitted at the sixty-first annual meeting of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada yesterday are characteristic of life insurance operations generally throughout the world.

That such evidence should be available to the millions of policyholders in this country in a period of depression is sufficiently striking, but there is good reason for its presence. Life insurance long ago established its position in public and private economy, whether from an investment point of view or from that of domestic protection and security, and in the manifold forms in which life insurance may now be obtained the citizen has the means of safeguarding his own interests and those of his dependents against a great variety of contingencies, and at little cost. In times of commercial and industrial buoyancy these means are sufficiently attractive, and the average citizen turns a percentage of his funds into life insurance, in one form or other, because it is a good thing, good as an investment, and good in the protection which it affords.

Time of depression alter this public attitude only in accentuating the value of the protective features of life insurance.

Estates that have declined in value through the downward movement of security markets everywhere and the concurrent decline in investment returns may be rebuilt for future realization by increasing the volume of life insurance carried by the individual, and it is not unreasonable to assume that this factor has been of no inconsiderable force in creating the record which life companies in Canada are able to show. Moreover, the maintained stability of the companies engaged in this business is beyond paraventure. The Dominion Superintendent of Insurance, Mr. George Finlayson, in addressing the Life Underwriters at a gathering in Ottawa last month, placed his official seal upon the status of these institutions in the following words: "From our knowledge of the conditions of insurance companies operating in Canada, there is no reason in the world why anyone should relinquish a policy through fear that any company is not in a position to meet its obligations in full." — Montreal Gazette.

It's got to be good to be advertised.

SCOUT NEWS

The movement in the Crows' Nest Pass is making much headway.

Provincial Commissioner Bachman from provincial headquarters is here organizing training classes, which are well attended. Parents are earnestly requested to attend any of the meetings of the scouts or cubs to see for themselves the nature of the training the boys receive. Ask any scout or cub what he is being taught, and he will readily oblige with a knowledge of the aims and objects that tend to make a boy useful to himself, to others and a good citizen.

Our object in taking up the training of the Wolf Cubs is not merely to devise a pleasant pastime of the cubmaster or for the boys, but to improve the efficiency of the future citizens of our Empire.

The past training of these has not proved adequate for the requirements of today, since the taxpayer's bill for educating the children, to become efficient citizens, is only exceeded by the bill he has to pay for police, prisons, poor relief, etc., owing to their failure to respond to such training.

If the training is not good enough for today, much less is it good enough for tomorrow, and it is tomorrow that we must look forward to.

Character is acknowledged to be of greater importance than merely book instruction for citizen efficiency. And yet no practical scheme exists for its inclusion in education to even an equivalent extent.

Efficiency has been defined as "being gaugable by the amount of supervision a man needs." But this, of course, applies only to the extent of moral efficiency, whereas physical efficiency is also of the highest value in completing the citizen efficiency of a man.

Physical health and how to develop it, should be as much apart of education as scholarly, scientific or technical attainments.

The thousands of hours and tens of thousands of dollars lost annually through strikes and lock-outs are nothing compared with tens of thousands of hours and hundreds of thousands of dollars that are lost through preventable physical inefficiency and ill health.

Our training of the Wolf Cubs therefore is directed to these two main aims. It is done at the most important time of their lives, when they are most malleable, both in body and mind to receive the right directions.

With a foundation laid thus early we may hope that the subsequent structure may be all the more satisfactory, especially since it forms part of a programme system to be continued and maintained during the period of his boy scout training, so that when he comes to years of discretion, health-athletism coupled with character, will be the habit of the majority rather than the accomplishment of the few.

Next week's issue will deal with the relations of the Wolf Cub Pack to the scout movement.

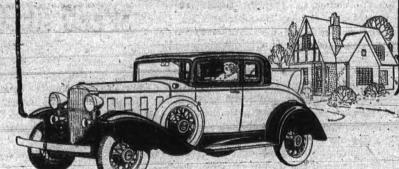

"Don't take yourself too seriously," one of Baden-Powell's philosophies, was interpreted to the chief scout in amusing fashion by Cambridge University Rovers. On the evening prior to the conferring upon him of the degree of doctor of laws, he was invited to a banquet, put through a mock ceremony and in a nonsensical terms created a "Doctorum Scoutingum Pelegarum."

B. A. P. accounts of the affair reflected as much enjoyment as that of the Rover undergraduates.

In Canada, Mr. Bennett has threatened with one-year terms in prison newspapermen who wrote articles on the Canadian financial situation that he did not like. What should he do with the chief of the finance and investment division of the United States' department of commerce, who writes "Canada has abandoned the gold standard?" But this gentleman is safe. Mr. Bennett has no more power to put him in jail than he has to pull the Canadian newspapermen he tried to bluff. — Financial Post.

New Chevrolet

Six Owners Know What a Difference Six Cylinders Make!

So many motorists have discovered the difference six cylinders make that today the Chevrolet Six leads all other automobiles in sales.

Six cylinders are better in every way. For example, Chevrolet's six-cylinder motor "picks-up" in high gear quickly and without vibration. You get away ahead of the traffic and you do not have to shift gears so often.

Secondly, you can drive as fast and as far as you like without any sense of strain or fatigue. For six-cylinder travel is smooth, quiet and restful at every speed.

Then, too, Chevrolet smoothness is built-in smoothness—inherent in six-cylinder design and Chevrolet's method of insulating engine from chassis by thick rubber cushions. It protects against the wear-and-tear of constant vibration as long as you drive your Chevrolet.

In addition to these great advantages, Chevrolet offers you Free Wheeling with safe, silent Syncro-Mesh gear shifting. It gives you 60-horsepower performance with lowest operating costs of any full-size car, regardless of the number of cylinders. And Chevrolet provides Bodies by Fisher—smarter, roomier and more lastingly quiet.

Drive a Chevrolet Six. You will find one pleasure and advantage after another to emphasize the fact: It's Wise to Choose a Chevrolet Six!

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR LEAP YEAR MAIDS

A Kansas City judge has announced ten commandments to guide women seeking to take advantages of leap year. They follow:

Don't pick a shell.

Don't let a handsome face influence your better judgment.

Don't shy from the bashful because the bashful are shy.

Consider the man who considers his nickles.

Believe not the man with the motor car has the only vehicle to happiness.

Remember, clothes may make the man and fill the clothes closet, but they don't fill the pantry.

Don't delay the proposal because he is old-fashioned—he may be like your father.

Demand much character, but be satisfied with a small part of the pay check.

Don't be finicky; you have faults yourself.

Let love by the only consideration; after all, nothing else counts.

The "Flying Bishop" of the Arctic, Bishop W. A. Geddes, who is the youngest bishop of the Anglican church throughout the world, recently travelled from Halifax to Edmonton and thence by airplane to his headquarters at Fort Chipewyan, following a well-earned vacation in the Maritimes. Standing well over six feet, fair haired and blue eyed, the intrepid bishop radiates the spirit of the vast spaces of the far north. His diocese covers an area of approximately 60,000 square miles and Eskimos and white men throughout this vast territory refer to him as "a square shooter". The trip from Edmonton would formerly have taken six weeks or longer by dog team, but, with the airplane, the distance can be covered in about five or six hours.

Of newspaper used in the United States in 1925 1,310,000 tons were produced in Canada and Newfoundland, as against 1,507,000 tons produced at home. In 1929 there were 2,355,000 tons imported from Canada and Newfoundland, as against 1,373,000 tons locally produced, and in 1930, 2,145,000 tons against 1,372,000 tons. The International Paper Company's subsidiaries in Canada and Newfoundland comprise a group of the largest and most efficient mills in the world.

Miss Doris McEwen and Mr. E. Barnes, of Blairmore, were Saturday visitors to Cowley.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

A bright and sunny Sunday saw the final breakup of a heavy unseasonal rain in the Corbin district, which began on the morning of Wednesday, February 24th, and continued until Saturday evening. The heavy snows in this valley during the winter had packed at least three and a half feet on the level, with more in the valleys. This has been considerably lessened during the week by the heavy downpour. The hills around are showing patches of naked earth, which were robbed of their winter blanket too soon, while on Saturday, Corbin creek came to life and broke through its crust of snow. Since then, it has swollen into an angry young torrent. A culvert on the E.

OVER THE HILL! ONE FILM
EVERY PERSON SHOULD SEE

James Dunn and Sally Eilers excell in new screen drama; Mae Marsh superb in mother role.

Persistent rumors filtering in from Hollywood prepared us somewhat for "Over the Hill," Fox special, which opens tonight for three days at the Code's theatre. But no rumor could possibly have prepared us for the stupendous human greatness that has been captured for the screen.

"Over The Hill" is, beyond doubt, far and away the finest human drama since the advent of talkies.

A complete modernized version of a classic of American poetry, it runs like music across the heartstrings. A cross-section of a growing family, it is overflowing with the full flavor of life—drama, comedy and pathos in a perfect harmony of the human heart.

James Dunn and Sally Eilers, give a performance as the young lovers in this picture that will stand as a goal for a long time to come. Dunn has something close to genius in his ability to make us feel what a young man is up against in life today. And Miss Eilers is a team-mate worthy of him in every respect.

Perhaps most astounding of all, however, is the unbelievable performance given by Mae Marsh. Returning to the screen, which she left twelve years ago for motherhood, Miss Marsh opens the true depths of a mother's heart for all to see. She lives the throbbing heart of motherhood on the screen.

Henry King, one of the greatest directors of the screen, has given us a perfect blend of the comedy of his "Twenty-Three and a Half Hours' Leave" and the pathos of his "Stella Dallas."

Especially deserving of credit also are James Kirkwood, Olin Howland, Claire Maynard, Edward Crandall, Eula Guy, Joan Peers and William Pawley.

"Over The Hill" is a picture for

Still Some Differences

There are still some differences between the sexes, despite the desperate efforts to eradicate them all and we never saw a man earnestly endeavoring to ascertain by a prolonged study of the outside of the envelope whom the letter came from, instead of opening it and finding out at once and for sure.

A Good Investment

Big Business In Orient Developed From Gifts

About a quarter of a century ago the Standard Oil Co. gave away without cost a large number of kerosene oil lamps and stoves in China and throughout the Orient. This was done to increase the demand for kerosene oil. It was a good investment. Today tankers operated by the Standard Oil and the Shell Oil Companies carry many millions of gallons of kerosene to Oriental countries annually. While electric lighting is common in port towns, throughout the Orient the interior cities and towns as well as the rural districts still employ kerosene oil as their principal means of lighting.

JESUS WASHES HIS DISCIPLES' FEET

Golden Text: "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many."—Matthew 20:28.

Lesson: John 13:1-15.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 52:13 to 53:6.

Explanations and Comments

Supreme Love and Supreme Treachery, verse 1 and 2.—Before partaking of the Feast of the Passover, Jesus was fully aware of the details awaiting Him, and the washing of the disciples' feet was a last illustration of His uttermost love for His own. His disciples were then, He had lived so long, somewhat arrogant. So by side with His Lord's great love for them, the Evangelist places the treachery of Judas Iscariot, who at the last fully made up his mind to betray Jesus.

Supreme Power and Lowest Service, verses 3-5.—In later years Peter wrote that when he was a child he had wanted to be like the other apostles, and to go with them, but when he grew up he was not so bold as the others. He had lived so long, he had been trained to think that he was a man of importance.

His feet were washed by Jesus, and He was greatly humbled.

Blushing Love, verses 6-9.—"Is not the wash of feet?" Peter exclaimed when his Master came to him, in the Greek words "su mou"—thou, of me—was in emphatic contrast to the meaning of the sentence, "What I do thou knowest not, but thou shalt understand hereafter." Christ's answer is partly explained in verses 12-17.

"I wash not thy feet," said Jesus.

"Then Lord, this shall never be unto me," said Peter.

"If I wash thee not, thou canst not be clean," said Jesus.

He was blushing with shame.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —

MARGARET PEDLER

Author Of "The Spirit of the Earth" and "For Ever."

Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London

He was looking, not at her but beyond her, as she spoke, as though his thoughts dwelt with some past memory. His expression was inscrutable; she could not interpret it. Presently he turned back to her and though he smiled at her, his eyes were filled with a deep, unnameable sadness in his eyes.

"The curse of the Tormarin lesson," he said quietly. "The Tormarin temper—the cursed inheritance of every one of us—has ruined others before me."

The words seemed to fall on Jean's ears with a numbing sense of calamity, not alone in that past to which they primarily had reference, but as though thrusting forward in some mysterious way into the future—her life.

She was conscious of a vague foreboding that this "cursed inheritance" of the Tormarin was destined, sooner or later, to impinge upon her own life.

At night, when she went to bed, her mind was still groping blindly in the dark places of dim premonition. Single sentences from the afternoon's conversation kept flitting through her brain, and when at last she slept it was to dream that she had lost her way and was wandering alone in a wild and desolate region. Presently she came to a solitary dwelling, set lonely in the midst of the impenetrable plain. Three wreathed-looking scrubby little fir trees grew to one side of the house, all three of them bent in the same direction as though beaten and bowed forward by some powerful wind. While she stood wondering what she should venture to knock at the door of the house and ask her way, it opened and Geoffrey Burke came out.

"Ah! There you are," he exclaimed, as though he had been expecting her. "I've been waiting for you. Will you come into my parlour?"

He led her in, and he spoke—she could see the faint glint of his white teeth—but there was something in the quality of the smile which ferruled her, and without answering a word she turned to escape.

But he overtook her in a couple of strides, catching her by the hand in a grip so fierce that it seemed as though the bones of her fingers must crack under it.

"Come into my parlour," he repeated. "If you don't, you'll be stamped forever with the mark of the beast. It's too late to try and run away."

Jean woke in a cold perspiration of terror. The dream had been of such vividness that it was a full minute before she could realize that, actually, she was safely tucked up in her own bed at Staple. When she did, the relief was so immeasurable that she almost cried.

The next morning, with the May sunshine streaming in through the open window, it was easier to laugh at her nocturnal fears, and to trace the odd phrases which, snatched from the previous day's conversation with Burke and Tormarin and jumbled up together, had supplied the nightmare horror of her dream.

But, even so, it was many days before she could altogether shake off the disagreeable impression it had made on her net.

CHAPTER XIV.

A Compact

"You don't like Jean Peterson," Burke made the announcement without preface. He and Judith were sitting together on the verandah at Willow Ferry, where their coffee had been brought them after lunch.

Burke inhaled a whiff of cigarette smoke before she answered. Then, without any change of expression, her eyes fixed on the glowing tip of her cigarette, she answered compositely:

"No. Do you expect I should?" "Well, hang it all, you don't hold her accountable for her father's defection, do you?"

A dull red crept up under Mrs. Craig's sallow skin, but she did not meet his eyes. They were still intent on the little red star of light during the long grey ash.

"Not accountable," she replied coolly. "I look upon her as an unpleasant companion. She has been formed suddenly. Do you realize that she might have been—my child?" There was a sudden quivering quality in her voice, and for an instant a rapt look came into her face, transforming its hard lines. "But she isn't. She happens to be the child of the man I loved—and another woman."

"You surely can't hate her for that?"

"Can't I? You don't know much about women, Geoff. Glyn Peterson stamped on my pride, and a woman never forgets that."

She leaned back in her chair again, her face once more an indifferent mask. Burke sat silent, staring broodingly in front of him. Presently her glance flickered curiously over his face.

"Why does it matter to you whether I like her or not?" she asked, breaking the silence which had fallen.

Burke shifted in his chair so that she faced him. His eyes looked far more red than brown at the moment, though they glowed with some hot inner light.

"Because," he said deliberately, "I'm going to marry her."

Judith sat suddenly upright.

"So that's the meaning of your constant pilgrimages to Staple, is it?"

"Just that."

She laughed—a disagreeable little laugh like a douch of cold water.

"You're rather late in the field, aren't you?"

"You mean that Blaise Tormarin wants her?"

"Of course I do. It's evident enough, isn't it?"

Burke pulled at his pipe reflectively.

"I should have thought he'd had a stiffer head than Nesta Freyne."

"So he had. But not in the way you mean. He never—loved—Nesta."

"Then why on earth did he ask her to marry him?"

"Good heavens, Geoffrey! You're a man—and you ask me that! There are heaps of men who ask women to marry them on the strength of a temporary infatuation, and then regret it ever after. Luckily for Blaise, Nesta saved him 'ever after' part."

"—saying him significantly—"Blaise's" feeling for Jean isn't of the temporary type. Of that I'm sure."

"All the same, I don't believe he means to ask her to marry him."

"No. I don't think he does—mean to. He's probably got some high-minded scruples about asking a woman to make a mess of her life as a result of the Tormarin temper. It would be just like Blaise to adopt that attitude. But he will ask her, all the same. The thing'll get too

Banned From Russia

Trotsky and 36 Others Forbidden For All Time To Enter Land Of Soviets

Leon Trotsky and 36 other Russian emigres living abroad were formally stripped of their Soviet citizenship recently and forbidden "for all time" to enter the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. The action was taken by the president of the central executive committee.

In the case of Trotsky, the action was a more formal one for he was banished permanently from the Soviet Union two years ago and sent to Istanbul, Turkey, where he since has lived as a bitter exile.

Trotzky was banished after an open split with Josef Stalin, Russia's strong man. He became a leader of the left-wingers, who preached a doctrine of world revolution as a necessity before socialism could be built in one country.

Other former Soviet citizens who former Soviet citizens who were banished under Sunday's ban were identified as Mensheviks or their sympathizers. Few of them were well known.

Followed a silence while Burke threw away the stump of her cigarette and lit another. She did not hurry over the process, but went about it slowly and deliberately, holding the flame of the match to the tip of her cigarette for quite an unnecessary long time.

"I don't mind if I do," she said slowly. "I don't think I—envy—your wife, Geoffrey. She won't be a very happy woman, so I don't mind asking Glyn Peterson's daughter to position. It would make things so comfortable all round if he and I even get along well enough to be thankful for Kruschen's—"

Burke looked at her with a mixture of admiration and disgust.

"What a thorough-going little beast you are, Judith," he observed tranquilly.

She shrugged her thin, supple shoulders with indifference.

"I didn't make myself, Glyn Peterson had a good share in kneading the dough: why shouldn't his daughter eat the bread? And anyhow, old thing—" her whole face suddenly softening—"I should like you to have what you want—ever if you wanted the moon! So you can count on me. But I don't think you'll find it all plain sailing."

"No—" sarcastically. "She'll likely be a little devil to break." Well, start being a bit more friendly, will you? Ask her to lunch."

Accordingly, a day or two later, a drowsy little old soul found its way to Staple, inviting Jean to lunch with Mrs. Craig.

"I shall be quite alone," it ran, "as Geoffrey is going off for a day's fishing, so I hope Lady Ann will spare you to come over and keep me company for an hour or two."

Judith was delighted at this evidence that Judith was thawing towards her.

She was genuinely anxious that they should become friends, knowing that it was up to her, as Glyn's daughter, to tone—so far as friendliness and sympathy could be said to atoms—for his treatment of her. Beyond this, she had a vague hope that later, if she and Judith ever became intimate enough to touch on the happenings of the past, she might be able to make the latter see her father in the same light in which she herself saw him—as a charming, lovable, irresponsible child, innocent of any intention to wound, but with all a child's unregarding pursuit of a desired object, irrespective of the consequences to others.

Cheap Land Rental

Fifty Dollars a Year Paid For Property Worth $7,500,000

For one of the most valuable properties in London, a rental of $50 a year is paid. This rental has not varied for centuries. It pays for the use of land on which is built the Mansion House, the official residence of the Lord Mayor.

The site of the Mansion House is owned by the rector of the parish of St. Mary Woolnoth, in Lombard Street, with which parish is combined the oddly named St. Mary Woolchurch-Haw. The Mansion House stands partly on the site of St. Mary Woolchurch, which was burned down in the Great Fire of London.

Shortly after the fire this parish was amalgamated with St. Mary Woolnoth, and when the Mansion House was built at the end of the eighteenth century the city corporation agreed to pay the rector of the combined parishes the sum of $50 a year as ground rent.

So the rector receives $25 a year half year for the site, which is valued at more than $7,500,000.

Find Ancient Wall

Excavations Result In Uncovering David's Wall Beneath Dust Of Thirty Centuries

An accident has led to the discovery, only a few years underground, of the wall which David built around the ancient capital of his Israelite kingdom when he captured it from the Jebusites 3,000 years ago. Excavators repairing an old sewer found the long-hidden wall buried beneath the dust of thirty centuries.

The early history of Jerusalem is obscure, but the wall built by David is supposed to have been the first of many erected to protect it against hostile tribes of invaders.

Fifty years ago Sir Francis Warren, in a survey of Jerusalem, marked out the approximate position of the first wall, running close by the Temple of Jehovah, but his calculations were not confirmed until the laborers began work on the sewer.

It was some years after David became king of the Israelites that he succeeded in conquering Jerusalem. He established his royal city on the eastern hill, or site of ancient Zion, east of the Temple of Jehovah, and appointed his leading commander, Jacob, governor of the city of Jesus, which occupied the western hill, and became the civil city. The David surrounded the royal city with a wall, built a citadel and supposedly under divine guidance, chose a site for the Temple of Jehovah, which Solomon erected.

David's wall has not only disappeared which has resulted from the new excavation, however. The workers first uncovered, twelve feet beneath the earth, a road built in Roman times, made of stone blocks three feet square and a foot thick. Five feet lower another old highway of similar construction was found.

Catering To Tourists

Soviets Buy High Priced Cars To Show Them the Country

Soviet Russia has placed an order in United States for 130 high-priced cars, the cost to be $400,000, bringing the price of each car over $3,000.

It is explained that the Soviet will use these fine cars for the purpose of entertaining tourists who may visit the country during the coming season.

No doubt the cars will be driven exactly where the Soviets desire them to go, and those who ride in them will see exactly what the Soviets want them to look at.

For some years that has been one reason why those who seek to obtain first-hand knowledge of what is going on in Russia have stayed away from that country.

The only condition under which entrance could be secured was that a party should be organized and personally conducted by an agent of the Soviet Government.

Riding around in an expensive car, with the gas paid for by the government, will not change that at all.

Little Helps For This Week

"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth."—Matthew 5: 5.

He that is down need fear no fall. He that is up no pride. He that is hungry shall have God to be his guide.

I am content with what I have. Little be it or much; And, Lord, contentment still I crave. Because Thou savest such.

—John Bunyan.

He, and he only, possesses the earth as he goes toward heaven by being humble, cheerful, and content with what his good God has allotted him. He was so turbulent, evincing thoughts that he deserved better; nor is he vexed when he sees others possessed of more honour or more riches than his wise God has allotted for his share. But he possesses what he has with a week and contented quietness. God has two dwellings—one in heaven, and the other in a meek and thankful heart—Isaak Walton.

More War Than Peace

3,153 War Years In the Last 3,421 Years Of World's History

There have been 3,153 "war years" in the last 3,421 years of the world's history, according to statistics published by the Society of International Law.

The society's report said that so far as is known there have been only 268 "peace years," but incomplete records of this evolution of nations make it difficult to determine definitely whether even those years were entirely peaceful.
